Expo Light Rail Line Community Outreach Activities

Los Angeles, California- September, 2008, With the acceleration of major construction and the need to keep the public well informed about the project, the Expo Construction Authority utilized a competitive bid process to select an experienced and qualified firm to provide community outreach and education services for the Expo Line project.

The Expo Line represents nearly a billion dollar transportation investment and the Authority has an obligation to the taxpayers and local residents to educate the community to make sure stakeholders have accurate information about this project – especially in light of misinformation that is being circulated by some individuals.

Los Angeles County desperately needs reliable and affordable mass public transportation. The Expo Line will improve public transit service and mobility from Downtown Los Angeles to Culver City and eventually to Santa Monica.
